COUNTY FAIR ON

OCT. 11, 12 AND 13

LAWRENCE COUNTY ASSOCIATION FIXES DATES FOR OUR FAIR.

At a meeting of the Fair Association last Saturday it was decided that the Lawrence County Fair will be held at Louisa, October 11, 12 and 13.

The banks, after a week of consideration, decided that they are not authorized under the law to take stock in the Lawrence County Bovine company. Dr. T. D. Burgess and Mr. Green Hay increased the company from eight to ten.

It was suggested that several of the farmers of this county wanted some good pure-bred heifers. The company agrees that its buyer will purchase for any farmer of this county a pure-bred bull or heifer of any breed. The only requirement is that the stock will be shown at the Lawrence County Fair on October 11, 12 and 13. Mr. Jim Woods will buy the stock. Mr. Woods, who is a successful dealer and raiser of live stock, is a very competent man for this place. His experience and knowledge of the defects of our cattle will aid him in selecting a type that is adapted to this county. To have this man of so great ability to walk into a pasture and select an animal for himself without one cent of profit for himself is an opportunity that does not come every year.

Be at the court house at 2 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 2nd, and make your wants known.

Saturday, Sept. 2nd is the day to deposit your money to the credit of Mr. Jim Woods at the Louisa National Bank. E. T. McCLURE, Secy.

DIES IN LEXINGTON.

The following from the Lexington Herald refers to the grandmother of Mrs. Richard V. Garred, of this city, and who is remembered in Louisa, having visited Mrs. Garred a few years ago:

Mrs. Ollie Chase Blackford died Tuesday evening of last week at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Clarke, in Lexington. Mrs. Blackford was born in Clarke-co. For a great many years she has made her home in Lexington with her daughter and was held in high esteem by her friends. She had been in declining health for several years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. F. Clarke and Mrs. Metta Sellers, of Charlottesville, Virginia. The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Mark Cobb of the Christian church. Burial took place in the Lexington cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. LIZZIE

HAMMOND SCHMUCKER.

Mrs. W. M. Schmucker died at her home in Canton, Ohio, on Thursday of last week and was buried on Sunday at that place. Her health had not been good for some time, but the illness that caused her death was of only a few days' duration.

Mrs. Schmucker was formerly Miss Elizabeth Hammond, of Fort Gay, where her mother and three brothers still live. She was an excellent woman. A husband and three children are left—Mabel, age 21, Ethel 19, George 17. Mrs. Schmucker was 55 years old. She was a faithful member of the Lutheran church.

Frank Hammond, of the W. H. Adams store, went to Canton and attended the funeral.

MISS LUCY WOOD MARRIED.

Miss Lucy Wood, of Glenwood, N. Y., was married to Mr. Charles French Gould, of Chicago, on August 12. They will be at home in Buffalo, N. Y., after September 1. The bride is a daughter of Dr. H. A. Wood and Miss Northing Wood, and is well known in Louisa, where she visited several times during her girlhood. She is an attractive and worthy young woman and the best wishes of her Louisa friends go with her for a happy future. Mr. Gould is known as a successful young business man of excellent character. He was in Louisa about a year ago and met the relatives of his fiancée.

AUTOMOBILES FOR INEZ.

The little town of Inez is getting a number of automobiles, notwithstanding the fact that the county has had roads. Geo. Hale, W. B. and Ben Richmond, Geo. Maynard and L. B. Casady were in Cincinnati, Ohio, last week where they bought four automobiles for use in the county. There is now an automobile running daily between Kermitt, W. Va., and Inez, hauling passengers and the mail.

HIS TWELFTH BIRTHDAY.

On the evening of Aug. 31st Master Andrew McClure celebrated his twelfth birthday with a party to a number of his girl and boy friends at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClure of Louisa. All enjoyed the affair very greatly. The spacious and well shaded grounds are especially adapted to the entertainment of such a party.

THE NEW CHURCH.

The brick, tile, stone, and some other materials needed at a number of the M. E. Church South have been ordered and the work on the new church is well advanced. The foundation of the new church is now being laid. The new church will be a fine addition to the town of Louisa.

The teacher of school in Kentucky will be given a new and taken on Congressman J. and will have the resident Wilson sent to strive right schools, as a worth while.

EMBARGO ON LIVE

STOCK SHIPMENTS

RAILROADS REFUSE TO ACCEPT

SHIPMENTS OF LIVE

STOCK.

The railway strike ordered for next

Monday is already seriously felt here.

An embargo on live stock and all perishable freight shipments on Thursday of this week. Both the N. &

W. and C. & O. railways are refusing to handle cattle and our farmers and dealers will be forced to carry their stock. Several shipments were ready to go out from here this week, but it is all off. Thus we are brought face to face with the seriousness of a strike

even before it actually goes into effect.

If the strike should continue for any considerable time it will be worse for the farmers than when the foot and mouth disease stopped the movement of cattle two years ago. One fact that is favorable to the farmers of this section is that grass is plentiful just now, and the crops of feed stuff are good.

Seven car loads of cattle were shipped from Port Gay Thursday of this week, the embargo on live stock going into effect at midnight of that day.

Prince Albert gives smokers such delight, because —its flavor is so different and so delightfully good;

—it can't bite your tongue;
—it can't parch your throat;
—you can smoke it as long and as hard as you like without any come-back but real tobacco happiness!

On the reverse side of every Prince Albert package you will read:

"PROCESS PATENTED JULY 30th, 1907"

That means to you a lot of tobacco enjoyment. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

PRINCE ALBERT

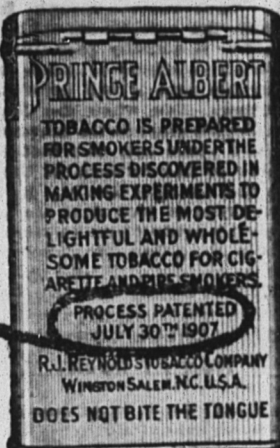

the national joy smoke

in goodness and in pipe satisfaction is all we or its enthusiastic friends ever claimed for it!

It answers every smoke desire you or any other man ever had! It is so cool and fragrant and appealing to your smoke appetite that you will get chummy with it in a mighty short time!

Will you invest 5c or 10c to prove out our say-so on the national joy smoke?

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

This is the reverse side of the Prince Albert tin. Read this "Patented Process" message to you and realize what it means in making Prince Albert so much to your liking.

OBITUARY.

On Thursday, Aug. 17, near the hour of 3 p. m. the pilgrimage of aunt Louisa Hays, wife of Andy Hays, of Adams, Ky. came to a close as the black winged messenger flapped his pinions across the tired, care worn form of this good woman and ended a life full of good deeds. Her soul arose in triumph over death, hell and the grave, and wended its way to the paradise of God. She had been in failing health for some years, but had only been confined to her bed a few months. She suffered greatly for many days before death relieved her, but bore her afflictions with christian fortitude. She had passed her 68th mile stone, was converted at the age of 14 years and became a member of the United Baptist church.

Precious darling, he has left us—Left us, yes forever more; But we hope to meet our loved one On that bright and happy shore.

The little body was taken to the Baptist church on Big Hurricane where its funeral was preached by Rev. Jacob Puckett, and Robert Billups, member of the United Baptist church.

She was the mother of ten children, two dying in infancy. The surviving ones are Willis, Zeal and John, of Ashland; Green, of Inez, Zyr, Alonzo, Dexon, of Paintsville; Mrs. Sol Carter, Greenup; Mrs. Monroe Adams, Mrs. Henry Pack, of Adams.

Mrs. Hays was kind and gentle in all her dealing with her fellow-being. She enjoyed feeding the hungry. She was a faithful companion, a loving mother, and a true christian woman in every respect. The funeral took place the following day, conducted by Revs. Wm. Copley and G. V. Pack after which the body was taken to the family graveyard and there deposited to await the coming of our Lord in his glory when those that hear his voice shall come forth. The bereaved family has our sympathy and prayers.

BIG HURRICANE.

In Loving Remembrance.

On Saturday evening, Aug. 19, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Lakin and took from them their darling baby, Harold R. He was only 6 months old, but a bright, sweet and loving baby, but he was sadly missed in the home, and the mother said: "Suffer little child, not for such to me and forbid them." Everything in the kingdom of Heaven loving hands and kind for him that but it was God's will that he should go on the voyage across the deep waters of death into the bright harbor of celestial light of love. The eyes that sparkled with light and love are closed for ever here on earth, and the little smiles are seen no more here, but little Ray is smiling more brightly in paradise and the little hands are folded on the breast that throbs no more. While his suffering was great here, his happiness will be greater in Heaven. Mother, father and sister, weep not for him, but prepare to meet him in the glory world where no sad tears are ever shed and parting never comes.

The friends and parents have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

Precious darling, he has left us—Left us, yes forever more; But we hope to meet our loved one On that bright and happy shore.

FISHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG

It is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

WHITESBURG, KY., Aug. 28.—Business in the circuit court is moving at a rapid pace. Judge John F. Butler, having arrived from a few days in Pikeville and has taken up his abode in his absence Judge W. May of Prestonsburg presided in the court. Judge Butler shows some improvement, we are pleased to note, friends trust he will soon be a man.

The case of the commonwealth vs. James C. Thompson in the circuit court was pushed with much rapidity with Judge May on the bench. After some sensational evidence was produced the fate of Thompson went into the hands of the jury. Young Thompson was charged with the willful murder of Miss Lula Blanton at a party in this county last April 29, while she and a party of friends were morning.

A sensation was springing when Thompson admitted on the witness stand that he shot the young woman accidentally, although he was under the influence of whiskey and did not know for a certainty just how it "all happened." Lonnie Catron the first witness to testify identified the pistol and cap found on the scene of the crime as that of Thompson. In the hands of the jury twelve men deliberated upon a verdict from a late hour Wednesday night until almost noon Friday.

Three times the jury reported hopelessly hung. Judge May at length discharged the jury and the case was passed until the November term of court. It is understood eleven of the jury stood out for a 21 year sentence; one held for an acquittal. This was doubtless one of the worst crimes ever committed in the county and the affair is deeply regretted.

The grand jury after a busy two weeks session, closed Friday its work, having made a systematic probe into the illegal whiskey and beer traffic, especially in the county, largely in the coal fields section where practically alarming conditions have prevailed for several months. One hundred and seventy-five indictments were returned, one hundred of which were for violations of local option laws. Express agents were interrogated, with records, of delivery of wet goods, showing larger quantities in some instances than the law directs and several indictments were returned against the express companies and the Louisville & Nashville railroad company. Individuals ordering the large quantities were indicted in a few instances, as it is shown that they are doubtless engaged in the sale of whiskey. The grand jury was complimented for its splendid efforts.

Friday evening Congressman John W. Langley, Judge John F. Butler, Pikeville, and Judge Gardner of Salyersville were "stranded" at a point one mile above Mayking due to a break down of a car while the party were motoring from Jenkins, coming to Whitesburg. Congressman Langley was headed for Hazard to attend the meeting of Tenth district republicans. Both the jurists came on into Whitesburg. A new car was ordered from Jenkins.

Judge James M. Roberson, of Pikeville, democratic candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, long an avowed candidate, was a notable visitor here Thursday of last week where he spent much of his time in shaking hands with his legion of friends. For a long, long time the fates showed that Judge Roberson was infested with a political bee in his hat. It has come true.

Saturday morning while employed by The South East Coal Co., at Lavers Samuel Adams fell from a box car while unloading lumber and was painfully, though not fatally injured. Adams head struck a steel rail and his escape from instant death seems remarkable.

J. Martin Wright, Jenkins police officer shot about three weeks ago by Mary Huzzan, 16 years old, while making a preconcerted effort to break up the illegal whiskey and beer traffic around Jenkins, died during the week of his wounds. His spinal cord was injured. Wright was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, Lexington, last week for treatment when he was informed by specialists that recovery was impossible. It was then that he returned to his home to spend last days with his family. The affair is deeply regretted.

Gorman will be the name of the new town to be built near Hemphill in the Boone Fork coal fields by the Elk-horn By-Products Co., recently organized here by Samuel Collins, L. E. Harvie, Wesley Reedy, Perry Gorman and others. Mr. Gorman is manager and will have active charge of the development. It is said the first shipment of Elk-horn by-products coal will be made within about thirty days.

It is highly probable that some very early developments are to be made on Colly creek five miles above here, leases of The Mineral Development company's property. It is understood that Wesley Reedy will be connected with the new company soon to be organized to make the development. The L. & N. will be induced to build a spur line into the headwaters of Colly creek.

After Judge John F. Butler made an order incorporating the new town of Neon the officers were named and hereafter Neon will be a full-fledged town. E. M. Bentley was named as police judge and M. T. Reynolds, marshal. An effort is to be made to govern the town and make it just as law-abiding as any section of the county. With its bad name corrected by the most strict enforcement of the law Neon would become a hustling business place.

Application is to be made for a post-office, although the town is within about three-fourths of a mile of Fleming. The office is needed.

The grand jury just before its final closing returned an indictment against Harvey Franklin, farmer, and Bradley and Shade Franklin, his two sons of Colly creek charging them with confederating and banding together against neighbors.

Jonah Banks was also indicted for shooting and wounding Thomas Davis and Joseph Adams three months ago at Lower Rockhouse creek.

Charged with issuing worthless checks David Williams a Mill creek farmer was also indicted. Each will execute bonds in the sum of $500, and their cases passed until the next term of court.

Isaac Burke and Creek Hall were each tried here on charge of moonshining on the headwaters of Rockhouse creek and were bound over by U. S. Commissioner Sam Collins. The men were sent down for final trial at Frankfort Sept. 22. They were arrested in a raid last week led by General Ralston Marshal Thorpe, Richmond and Deputy Collector Sewell B. Williams of Jackson, the men having carried their moonshine still away just in advance of the officers.

A long drawn out legal estrangement, a land suit, between heirs of the late John W. Adams of Mill creek and Ben R. Webb over title and possession to a small parcel of land there is now being fought out in the circuit court. The suit has been in court for some twenty-five or twenty-six years.

News from the Left Beaver creek coal fields north of here states that considerable industrial activity is now seen in that section due to the rapid construction of the grade work of 26 miles of the B. and O. railroad and the building of model mining towns and the opening of mines, etc. Already The Elk Horn Mining Corporation is beginning work on an industrial center, the place has been christened Wheelright in honor of President Jere H. Wheelright of the company. Mr. Wheelright and a party of high officials of the giant corporation are touring the Beaver creek field. Another town is planned for Jack's creek, while much building is under way at Weeksbury, much of which was built up about eighteen months ago.

It is said that everything possible will be done to complete the construction of the road within six months. They propose having trains running by March 1.

Deputy Collector, Sewell B. Williams, Jackson, and B. W. Baker, Hazard were official business visitors here a day or so ago. They brought some prisoners, moonshiners, before Sam Collins, U. S. Commissioner for preliminary hearings.

Judge Geo. W. Kilgore perhaps one of the oldest practicing attorneys in Eastern Kentucky or Southwestern Virginia, a learned and beloved jurist, was here on business with the circuit court from Wise, Va. He was interested in a big land suit in this county, involving title to several hundred acres of rich coal and timber lands. Back in the '50s he was actively engaged in the practice of his profession.

An automobile plunged over a high embankment, over turning eight times before reaching level ground, at a point between Fleming and Haymond in the coal fields a day or two ago, severely injuring Troy Stallard, chauffeur, of Wise-co., Va. Stallard's left leg was broken, besides other injuries said to be internally. Three passengers aboard the car saw the impending danger and leaped for their lives, escaping injury. The car, a practically new Ford, was a mass of ruins.

Attorney O. H. Waddle, leading legal light of southern Kentucky has been here several days from Somerset on a business mission. Mr. Waddle stands deeply interested in our vast wealth of coal and timber, a store house of resources. It is probable that he will invest in Letcher county.

Deputy Sheriff James Tolliver leading good citizen of the Baker section has announced himself a candidate for sheriff of Letcher county. He will have a number of opponents.

Lifts Your Corn Right Never Fails.

"Ever in your life see a corn out like that? Look at the true underneath—smooth as the palm of your hand!"

"The corn is dressed with the one, simple, painless, never-failing remedy that makes millions of corn-sufferers people happy, and that's 'GETS-IT'."

"Apply it in 3 seconds. It dries. Some people jab and dig at their corns with knives and razors—wrap their toes in packages with bandages or sticky tape, make them red and raw with aives. Nothing like this with 'GETS-IT'. Your corn loosens—you lift it off. There's nothing to press on the corn, or hurt. Angela couldn't ask for more. Try it tonight on any corn, callus or wart."

Mills and factories of every kind in the United States will be closed by the railway strike, if it is put into effect.
Wages are higher than ever known.
Will the working men who desire to keep busy in these industries welcome
such a calamity?

Wilson has asked Congress
resident authority to draft all railway employees and case of strikes. This would moving, pending the settling of differences of every kind.
has such a law and it works managers of the country, and injustice to anyone.

Canada liquor interests, with their out satanic-like methods, are always using without times to slip up on the unwary and at some of their false theories in the m. We are almost constantly resnaking free articles and are offered free schemes in which some point in their interest is cunningly half concealed. The latest scheme is a package of pamphlets, price ten cents each,
and an offer to sell us any large quantity that we might desire at prices that would net us 200 per cent profit if we sold the books at 10 cents each. Having been in the newspaper business for some years, more or less, we began to look for the nigger in the wood-pile, or the snake in the grass, as you may prefer to call it. The booklet contains 48 pages, apparently filled only with information about presidential elections, with maps, tables, and full statistics. But searching diligently we find the fangs on the 47th page, a paragraph quoted from that notorious anti-prohibitionist, that most rabid friend of liquor, Henry Watterson.

Then another by Wm. H. Taft and a third one by Oscar Underwood. Sandwiched between them are quotations from prohibitionists Wm. J. Bryan and Richmond P. Hobson, but these two are only a few sentences referring to the amount spent for liquor, and touching the revenues. They contain no argument and were deliberately chosen because of that fact, and only to fool the reader into believing that all five paragraphs were chosen by a disinterested compiler of the pamphlet.

It is a smooth and expensive scheme to slip into the hands of good people in an effective way the strongest arguments ever made against prohibition. It is as detestable and dishonorable a plot as we have seen for a long time.

The organized trainmen of the United States have ordered a strike on all railroads, to take effect Monday morning, Sept. 4th, unless the railway officials accede to their demands for ten hours pay for eight hours work, and thirteen hours pay for ten hours work.
They refused all offers to arbitrate the questions in dispute, and the railway officials demand that arbitration be resorted to, in order that their side may be given consideration.

Nothing worse could happen to our hundred millions of people than a suspension of railroad traffic. Nothing could infuriate them more than to have these arteries of trade stop. The damage to business in the midst of the great prosperity now being enjoyed is beyond present comprehension, and the public will have no patience with those responsible for such a crime. Woe be unto the side upon which public sentiment fixes the blame! Aroused public sentiment is a storm before which nothing can stand, and neither railway employees nor railway managers should underestimate what will happen in the present instance if the strike is put into effect. It will be impossible to convince the public that a strike is necessary or excusable at this time. Wages are high and work plentiful. Therefore, the spirit of condemnation will be aroused in the public. We are not discussing which side is at fault. That can be determined only by a board of disinterested men.

Railroads are public service institutions. No man or set of men has any right to block and break down the business of the entire country by stopping transportation. The whole texture of our business fabric has been built up with the railroad system as the most important thread. It is of such importance that the government should enact laws to take hold and keep trains running during a crisis such as that now impending. The public has a right to the service regardless of the differences between labor and capital. Let them settle their disputes fairly and without resorting to violence and disruption of the country's business.

Such an experience as a strike at this time will probably result in government regulation of railways. Wages will be fixed by the federal board, and freight and passenger rates will be made by the same authorities. The government is not noted for paying fancy salaries. The revision that follows may be a shock to those who are now receiving the highest wages ever known for the services rendered. These are facts fully realized by the far-seeing friends of labor. If all the parties to the trouble will take a calm survey of the situation, laying aside prejudice, passion and unholly greed, there will be no strike.

J. A. Rice, of Dennis, is undoubtedly but he strives hard to please every one.

A few days ago a letter bearing a spe-letter. He had nearly a mile to go and plenty of water to cross. He said he trouble and started to deliver the letter. He

WATCH THIS SALE.

You know the Old Vinson place in the upper end of Catlettsburg? One of the prettiest locations in the entire Sandy Valley. It is high, in fact the highest land in or around Catlettsburg, except, of course, the hills. The view is fine and there are a lot of pretty homes being built in this section. It is handy to the traffic bridge, the street car line and the Kenova industries. The Old Vinson place has been divided into building lots and the owners have decided to auction these lots off on Wednesday afternoon, September 6th. There are perhaps twenty-five lots and they are certainly dandies. If you want to live in Catlettsburg and be away from all dread of high water this is exactly the place you are looking for.

The sale will begin at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, September 6th, and it will probably last but a short time, for it will not take long to sell a few lots in such a desirable location, especially if they are sold under the hammer.

The sale will be called by D. K. Gaffney, a clever, young, auctioneer from Spartanburg, S. C. He is a live auctioneer, and he will keep things moving. A brass band will be on hand to enliven the occasion.

Look these lots over before the sale and decide which one you want, then when the sale comes and they are put up at auction, buy one of them just as cheap as you can, but don't miss the opportunity to get one of the finest lots in Boyd county.

STRIKE ISSUE IS BEFORE CONGRESS

Wilson Appeals to Solons to Avert Break.

BOTH SIDES STAND FIRM

President Recounts Attempt to Settle Controversy and Gives Position of Both Sides—Strike Is Positively Called For Labor Day.

Washington, Aug. 30.—In his efforts to prevent a nationwide strike, President Wilson has appealed to congress for legislation to meet the crisis. With the railway presidents refusing to accede to the peace proposals of the president, and the railroad brotherhoods refusing to accept the demands of the railroad executives, congress now presents the only hope of preventing the railroad strike.

President Wilson went before a joint session of congress and laid the situation before the members of the house and senate. The president told them of his efforts to bring the railroad managers and men into some sort of an agreement, and, saying that he had been powerless to do so, appealed to congress to enact certain specific legislation to deal with the situation now and in the future.

Pointing out the distress and hardships which a nationwide strike would bring upon the country the president asked congress to empower him to draft into the service of the United States the very managers and men who have been unable to adjust their differences so that the government may operate the railroads in case of military necessity.

He proposed that congress, first, enlarge the membership of the interstate commerce commission to equip it to deal with larger situations; second, that an eight-hour day be established for all trainmen in interstate commerce; third, that a commission investigating the effect of the eight-hour day, but without recommendation, that the public may learn from a disinterested source of the merits of the question; fourth, that the interstate commerce commission consider the increased cost of the eight-hour day in making rates; and fifth, amend the mediation law to prevent strikes or lockouts while industrial disputes are being investigated. The sixth proposal was that the president be empowered to operate the railways in case of military necessity. How these recommendations are to be carried out President Wilson left entirely in the hands of congress.

Strike Certain. Just before the president went to address congress it became known that the strike leaders had positively called the strike for Labor Day unless a favorable settlement was reached before and that the negotiations between the managers and men had been broken off.

The committee of railway presidents made a public statement of their position, declining to accept President Wilson's plan and giving their reasons.

The president presented all the details of the two weeks of negotiation to congress, recounting how he had laid before both sides a picture of the distress into which a strike would plunge the nation, and how he had assured the railway managers that the public would see that justice was done. "They have thought it best," said he, referring to the railway managers, "that they should be forced to yield, if they must yield, not by counsel, but by suffering of the country."

"While my conferences with them were in progress," the president continued, "and when, to all outward appearance these conferences had come to a standstill, the representatives of the brotherhoods suddenly acted and set the strike for the fourth of September."

Thus the president summarized his efforts, and added:

"But I could only propose. I could not govern the will of others, who took an entirely different view of the circumstances of the case, who even refused to admit the circumstances to be what they have turned out to be."

He then followed with his recommendations for legislation. Representatives of the railway managers and of the brotherhoods sat in reserved seats in the galleries and heard the president make his address.

HOMER, ILL., BANKS LOOTED BY ROBBERS

Blow Safes and Escape With $14,000 In Auto.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 30.—The town of Homer, near here, was invaded at an early hour by six men in an automobile, who blew the safes in two banks, escaping with loot estimated at $14,000.

Before getting off the charges of nitroglycerine, of which four were heard, they cut all telephone and telegraphic communication out of the town, except the Illinois traction system wire over which Sheriff A. M. Evans of Urbana, was summoned.

The interiors of both banks were wrecked while silver money was scattered in the vaults and the banking rooms.

The explosions were timed at the two banks at about the same time. The men worked in two parties, one at the Citizens bank and the other at the Raynor & Robb bank.

Within fifteen minutes after the first explosion and before the citizens of the little town could be aroused the men had completed their work and left. They were seen leaving the main street of the town by L. D. Jergensmyer, who had driven from Indianapolis and arrived just ahead of a high powered machine believed to contain the robbers. He says the men were armed with shotguns and were six or seven in number.

At the Raynor & Robb bank more than $8,500 in currency was obtained. A few scattered dollars in the streets showed the haste with which the men worked. At the Citizens bank $5,000 was obtained, including the money deposited by the postmaster. Only $1 was found in the vaults when an examination was made. Currency was shipped in from Decatur, Chicago and Danville before the banks could do business.

A bottle of nitroglycerine and a box of shotgun shells were found in front of the Citizens bank.

Both banks are private institutions and are heavily insured in a casualty company.

U. S. WARSHIP DRIVEN ASHORE

Memphis Hits Rocks In Ground Swell at San Domingo.

GUNBOAT GASTINE ESCAPES

It Is Reported That Many Lives Were Lost—Inrush of Water Extinguishes Fires Under the Boilers of the Cruiser.

San Domingo, Aug. 30.—Many lives are reported lost as a result of the United States armored cruiser Memphis being driven ashore on the rocks of the outer harbor by a sudden ground swell. All fires under the boilers of the Memphis were extinguished by the inrush of water.

The United States gunboat Gastine managed to escape by putting to sea. The United States cruiser Memphis formerly was the armored cruiser Tennessee. Her name was changed May 25 last. Recently she has been doing duty in San Domingo waters in connection with the revolution.

The Memphis is of 14,500 tons and has a horse power of 23,000. Her complement is 990 men. She is the flagship of the cruiser force of the United States Atlantic fleet.

Captain E. L. Beach commands the Memphis. Other officers on board include Lieutenant-Commander Y. S. Williams, Lieutenant T. Withers Jr., Lieutenant C. A. Jones and Junior Lieutenants H. G. Shoner, W. J. Carver, F. L. Shea, J. L. Kerley and H. J. Pierce; Ensigns D. M. Steece, J. H. Rockwell, M. J. Walker, R. T. Darrow, D. D. Dupre and H. M. Meyers; Passed Assistant Surgeon J. D. Mears, Passed Assistant Surgeon G. E. Robertson, Dental Surgeon R. Barber, Passed Assistant Paymaster K. C. McIntosh, Acting Chaplain C. V. Ellis, and First Lieutenant of Marines R. L. Shepard.

The Memphis was launched in 1904 at the Cramp Shipbuilding company plant in Philadelphia. She had a speed of over twenty-two knots an hour. She is armed with four ten-inch, sixteen six-inch, twenty-four three-inch and four six-pounder guns and carried four torpedo tubes. She was 502 feet long on the water line, 75 feet beam and had a maximum draft of 26½ feet.

In 1908 the cruiser, then the Tennessee, had a boiler explosion on board off Port Hueneme, Cal., in which seven men were killed. At the outbreak of the present European war the cruiser, still the Tennessee, acted as a relief ship for Americans stranded as a result of the war. She carried $5,867,000 to Europe for this purpose and later acted as a ferry for Americans between Havre, France and English ports, bringing thousands of them from the war zone.

Later the cruiser sailed for the Mediterranean where she also was used for relief work, again acting as a ferry for Syrians and Armenians from Turkish ports in Asia to Egypt. While engaged in this work at Smyrna the forts of that city fired on the launch from the cruiser, which was the cause of considerable diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Turkey.

ROADS PLAN TO MOVE FOOD

Expect to Replace Some Trainmen Who Go on Strike.

New York, Aug. 30.—Railroad traffic officials indicated here that every effort would be made in event of a nationwide railroad strike to operate sufficient trains to transport milk and perishable foodstuffs, through a system of promotion of men from other departments to fill the places of the men who walked out.

Skilled machinists and engineers in other industries would be employed to operate these trains. It was asserted, together with the most efficient of the railroad employees who remained at work.

Appeals were mailed to the presidents of all railroads and to the representatives of the employees, by the New York milk committee, urging that operation of milk train be continued if a strike takes place.

Clerk Uses Penknife to Slash Throat.

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 30.—When his wife was getting milk for breakfast, Charles Nichols, forty-one, cut his throat with a penknife, and neighbors called later by his wife found him dying in the basement of his home. He was a drug clerk and suffered a nervous breakdown.

More Join Freight Handlers Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Eight hundred more men joined the strike of freight handlers called when the railroads refused to recognize their union, bringing the total now out up to 1,100. The men who walked out were employed by the Baltimore & Ohio and the Grand-Trunk railroads.

Paris, Aug. 30.—The Bucharest correspondent of the Petit Journal wires that he is informed that Bulgaria has decided not to declare war on Roumania, even though that country permits the passage through it of Russian troops.

RUSSIAN FORCES JOIN NEW ALLY

GREECE MAY ENTER WAR

Big Demonstration In Athens Clamor For King Constantine to Alter His Previous Course—Servians Are Advancing on Vetrinik.

London, Aug. 30.—Desperate battles are being fought on the Roumanian front for the possession of important mountain passes, according to reports received. Russian and Roumanian troops have joined forces in the attempt to invade Transylvania.

The junction of the Roumanian and Russian forces in the Carpathians is indicated in the official announcement made by the Berlin war office, and a report received at Zurich says that the Roumanian troops, which had been concentrated at Jassy, near the Russian frontier, entered Transylvania at a point near to the west of Pietre, and have joined Russian troops coming from Bukovina.

A report received at Berlin was to the effect that the Roumanians had been defeated in their first attempt to force their way through three important mountain passes into Hungary.

News of furious fighting for possession of the important passes is contained in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berne, Switzerland. The Roumanians, according to this report, are making furious assaults on the Austrian positions in the mountains.

Vienna reports that all the Roumanian citizens in the city have been called upon to report to the police authorities within forty-eight hours and to present certificates establishing their identity.

Roumania's entry into the war continued to hold the attention of war critics, although there was some activity on the other fronts.

Rumors that Greece is about to enter the war continue to be rife, and an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from The Hague says that Germany is preparing for the eventual participating of Greece on the side of the allies. Many Greeks have departed from Germany, according to this report, and the Greek minister in Berlin is to be received by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

News from Athens that the Greek people are clamoring for King Constantine to alter his course and to dismiss "sinister advisers" adds to the growing belief that the country can not long be held out of the great conflict. The king is accused of taking steps that have brought Greece to the point where the loss of much that has gained in the revolution of 1909 is threatened, and the demand is made that he abate face or suffer the consequences.

The French are making progress toward the Ljumnica river and the Serbian army is advancing on Vetrinik, according to a statement issued on the Macedonian campaign by the Paris war office. Strong Bulgarian attacks on the northwest of Lake Ostrovo were repulsed by the Servians, according to this statement.

The Germans have launched attacks on the eastern front, and according to the Petrograd war office, 2,000 gas bombs were fired in an attack on Russian positions on the western bank of the Stokhod river.

Minor engagements are reported on the west front, but it appears that weather conditions are hindering operations there.

The war office at Rome says that in spite of unfavorable weather the Italian troops are continuing their successes against the Austrians on the Trentino front, and reports minor victories.

Maysville, Ky., Aug. 25.—The Maysville cotton mills received yesterday by express a package of aniline dye that was part of the cargo of the submarine Deutschland. The proprietors say the price is almost nominal, and another shipment will arrive to-morrow, this making enough to tide the mills over the coming winter.

Hazard, Ky., Aug. 25.—The "unwritten law" was upheld by a jury in the Perry Circuit Court to-day, when William Daniels, on trial for killing Green Patrick several weeks ago, was acquitted. According to testimony at the trial Patrick came to Hazard from Magoffin-co. several weeks ago with Mrs. Daniels, and when he was met on the street the next day by the woman's husband, the latter killed him.

Reconstruction, of course! When the great war is over, shattered Europe must be rebuilt. Mediaeval architecture, crumbled by cannon, will be replaced by well-lighted, well-ventilated, convenient and sanitary buildings of the present day. In this tremendous rebuilding,

Certain-teed Roofing

will play a leading role; for CERTAIN-TEED is the twentieth century answer to the demand for roofing that is economical to buy, easy to lay and inexpensive to maintain.

CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roof, from the largest sky-scraper down to the smallest residence or out-building.

It makes a clean, sanitary, attractive roof, with a very low cost per year of life. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it outlasts the period of guarantee.

If you are interested in roofs, investigate CERTAIN-TEED before you decide upon the type to buy. You will find CERTAIN-TEED for sale by responsible dealers all over the world.

The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the quality of the roofing felt and the character of the asphalt saturation. This is a blend of soft asphalt prepared by the General's board of expert chemists. The highest quality roofing felt is thoroughly saturated with this soft blend, and is then coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing.

He was picked up by the crew and taken to Catlettsburg, where several physicians were called, and everything possible was done that could be done. The man is terribly hurt. Portsmouth, O., Aug. 25.—Miss Bertha Blevins, the Olive Hill, Ky., young woman who attempted to take her life following a quarrel with her lover, by swallowing several bichloride of mercury tablets spent a restless night at Hempstead Hospital.

Thursday morning found little or no change in the young woman's condition.

When their machine plunged over a high bridge on the Owingsville and Mt. Sterling Pike Ernest Ruggles, 26 years old, of Wrigley, Morgan-co., was instantly killed, Hartford Pennington and Miss Dollie Ramey, of Farness, Ky., were perhaps fatally injured and three others suffered lesser injuries.

Going at a high rate of speed, they attempted to turn an extremely short curve whose angle was formed by the bridge. The car plunged through the railing and hurled its passenger twenty feet to the rocks below.

Ruggles' neck was broken in the fall, while both Pennington and Miss Ramey suffered fractures of the skull. They were rushed to a Lexington hospital where little hope is held out for them. Ruggles' relatives were notified and his body was taken by them to his home.
